

Stephanie Nellons-Paige

Houston, TX

Stephanie Nellons-Paige is a seasoned leader in the transportation industry and is currently the Managing Director of Business and Workforce Opportunity at Texas Central Railway, America's first high-speed train. Ms. Nellons-Paige's ability to develop and implement strategies that drive results is exemplified through her years of service in public, private, and non-profit organizations. She has been a corporate executive in several Fortune 500 companies. A few of the boards Ms. Nellons-Paige currently serves are Ancora Education Board of Directors, Cooperative Mobility for Competitive Mega-regions Advisory Board, and the Houston Health Equity Response Task Force (to respond to the Covid- 19 pandemic). She has served as Co-Chair for the United States Conference of Mayors Business Council and is the 2020 Rosa Parks Awardee for the Houston Chapter of Women's Transportation Seminar.

Ms. Nellons-Paige received a Bachelor of Science in Urban Studies and Master of Science in Transportation Management from Morgan State University in Baltimore, MD. She is a Diamond-Life member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. and the National Co-Chair of Fund Development and Chair of Vision 20/20 for the Links, Incorporated.